Introduction of LT. in school level education

4425. SHRI MATILAL SARKAR : Will the Minister of HUMAN RESOURCE DEVELOPMENT be pleased to state:

(a) the extent to which the Information Technology has been introduced in different States in the school level education;

(b) whether Government are aware that many of the economically backward States cannot afford to run IT education in schools on account of financial difficulties; and

(c) if so, what type of help Government are going to extend to the States in this respect ?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF HUMAN RESOURCE DEVELOPMErNT PR VALLABHBHAIRAMJIBHAIKATHERIA): (a) to (c) The various States/UTs have recognized the benefits of Information Technology and its impact on education at every level and the need to create awareness among school students about computer education. Several States like Chhattisgarh, Karnataka, Andhra Pradesh, Goa, Tamil Nadu, Gujarat, Punjab, Tripura, Madhya Pradesh, Meghalaya and Manipur have launched their own initiatives in the field of computer education. In order to promote computer education in the country, the Department of Secondary and Higher Education has launched a revised Computer Literacy and Studies in Schools (CLASS) scheme during 2001-2002. All the States/UTs are entitled to benefit from the scheme. As per the criteria adopted for the revised CLASS scheme, grant-in-aid is provided to State Goverrments/UTs on the basis of Computer Education Plans (CEPs) submitted by them. The CEP would indicate the steps already taken by the State/UTs and the assistance, which they now require. The CEPs are examined by the Project Monitoring & Evaluation Group (PM & EG) headed by Education Secretary and funds are allocated to the States/UTs on
